BRAVE THE OCEAN

Par ????

Album : ???LIVE [nZk]005

Can you wait?

I'll go and see what I can do

I know why

I know what she's been going through

And when you look up to the skies

In most worlds you think of peace

Like before

To break these chains

We must all rise from feelings of hate

And It's blood, sweat, tears

But no revenge should govern our fate

That time I first realised I cared for you so

The city below

A dance in the dark

I must end this now, it's perfectly clear

Before it begins

The war we all fear

We can wait

I wanna see what I can do

It's too late

To hope that I might make it through

And when you see the light below

I know exactly where to go

Back to her

To break these chains

We must all rise from feelings of hate

And it's blood, sweat, tears

But no revenge should govern our fate

That time I first realized I cared for you so

The city below

A dance in the dark

I must end this now, it's perfectly clear

Before it begins

The war we all fear

To break these chains

We must all rise from feelings of hate

And it's blood, sweat, tears

But no revenge should govern our fate

That time I first realized I cared for you so

The city below

A dance in the dark

I must end this now, it's perfectly clear

Before it begins

The war we all fear
