Shadowless

Par Achsar

Album : Septentrionalis

Not all who wander are lost

Not all who come from past are ghosts

He is the bringer of resolve

To defeat ancestral foe

One of those without the shade

Hoary sentinel - keeper of man

From legend he comes - our only hope

Pathfinder on quest foretold

Wanderer I'm, without shade, without name

Only few remember, legend about my race

True quest of mine starts this day, hear my words carefully

Now walk with me a lonely way of those without shade cos I'm Shadowless

He is the voice of the past, harbinger of legacy so dark

Only united as one strong man

We are able to stop chaos itself

He is there to find four of his own blood

On his shoulders lies a burden of our time

Incredible venture and dangerous adventure

He must face now primordial evil that walks again the earth
