Lifeline

Par Alan Walker and LOVA

Album : Neon Nights

Lost in your eyes tonight

Searching for a guiding light

Falling into you

My mind gets dark, so I

Drowning in my alibi

Swimming in the blue

I don't dive into the sea

'Cause every time I jump, it pulls me deep

I tell you that I'm fine, but I'll be telling a lie

I was kind of hoping for a lifeline

I don't go into the waves

'Cause every time they crash, I don't feel safe

Yeah, I'm a little scared to put my life on the line

I was kind of hoping you're a lifeline

Lifeline

I was kind of hoping you're a lifeline

Lifeline

I was kind of hoping you're a lifeline

Lifeline

I'm calling out your name

Can you hear me through the wind and rain?

I'm really hoping that you do

'Cause now my heart start to race (race)

Pick up the pace (pace)

Thoughts in my head (head)

Wish I'd forget, but I'm bound to you

Can you pull me through?

I don't dive into the sea

'Cause every time I jump, it pulls me deep

I tell you that I'm fine, but I'll be telling a lie

I was kind of hoping for a lifeline

I don't go into the waves

'Cause every time they crash, I don't feel safe

Yeah, I'm a little scared to put my life on the line

I was kind of hoping you're a lifeline

Lifeline

I was kind of hoping you're a lifeline

Lifeline

I was kind of hoping you're a lifeline
