Lying

Par Amy Meredith

Album : So Fresh - The Hits of Summer 2011 + The Best Of 2010 (Disc 1)

I woke up again last night,

You smell of him, do we need to call the doctor

I don't know where you've been

Was it worth it, was it worth it

Sit tight, this might

Be the first time that I caught you out

You got to think twice, this might,

Be the last time that I call you by your name

I know your lying to me,

Cause your palms start to sweat

And your knees are getting heavy

Eyes closed,

Your lying to me when your heart starts to race,

And your feet are getting ready

Your fumbling for the phone on the wall

There's nobody left to call

Cause there's no one out there

It's hard to believe that no one can see the writing on the wall

I woke up again last night. Let the party begin

And we'll live happily ever after

I'm making you wait outside

Cause I'm worth it yeah I'm worth it

Dressed to impress now

Looking your best

And you wanna get away from me

But you're obsessed with the sex girl

Should I confess that you never got the best from me

I know your lying to me,

Cause your palms start to sweat

And your knees are getting heavy

Eyes closed,

Your lying to me when your heart starts to race,

And your feet are getting ready

Your fumbling for the phone on the wall

There's no one out there

It's hard to believe that no one can see the writing on the wall

Don't stop now you're ready to go

We're at the best part of the show

Turn the lights out it's over.

The nights just about to explode

I know your lying to me,

Cause your palms start to sweat

And your knees are getting heavy

Eyes closed,

Your lying to me when your heart starts to race,

And your feet are getting ready

Your fumbling for the phone on the wall

There's no one out there

It's hard to believe that no one can see the writing on the wall

Don't stop now don't stop now

Turn the lights out it's over.

The nights just about to explode
