Newborn Me

Par Angra

Album : Secret Garden CD #1

There was a point

When I was there

Where I didn't want to be

But I was there escaping from a

Place I've been before

I was myself, I was in me

And from where I see and feel

I saw a man who was afraid

Of who he wished to be

Nighttime is taking longer

My hope will save me from despair

Dragging me out of hell

Hold on the miracle of life

Will never be defined

Calm down the minute you find love

You're facing the light!

When I think I'm going deep

I'm really going hollow

I can see a newborn me

Emerging from the bottom

The two sides of my brain

Engage into a fight

For the right the left is wrong

And for the left the left is right!

The nightmare is growing stronger

My hope will save me from despair

Hold on the miracle of life

Will never be defined

Calm down the minute you find love

You're facing the light!

Angels are calling out my name

I'm so afraid now

How can I know if I am sane or going mad?

Hold on the miracle of life

Will never be defined

Calm down the minute you find love

You're facing the light!

You're facing the light!

You're facing the light!
