Well, I was walking on feet just like my father's

And my knees were trying to reach you at your mother's

'Cause my nose was screaming that you smelled like a lover

But my hands were happy to treat you like a brother, then

We do the dance up on the plains

Then I'll shake-shake your shoulders

You push me down into the grains

Who rubs our noses in the night?

We do

Pow! Pow!

Now! Now!

Pow! Pow!

Now! Now!

Pow! Pow!

Now! Now!

Pow! Pow!

Now! Now!

I've been into the plants and simple treasures

And I sew patches on pants and I'll get pleasure

And I don't make particular plans 'cause they don't matter

If you keep on foolin' in bed with my sleeping patterns, and

We do the dance up on the plains

Then I'll shake-shake your shoulders

You push me down into the grains

Who rubs our noses in the night?

We do

Pow! Pow!

Now! Now!

Pow! Pow!

Now! Now!

Pow! Pow!

Now! Now!

Pow! Pow!

Now! Now!

What's with all the changes since the time I was aware

It's like the apple eating people that we once were aren't there

Did they empty out their pockets and debase their younger faces

And you must make sure you're happy when you leave your summer places

Pretty little femur sitting in my cherry dream boat

I'd be sad if your rejected from my hip bone and my knee

If I sailed away from continents and touched my lover's hair there

Then you'd be very happy if I touched her there

Pretty little femur sitting in my cherry dream boat

I'd be sad if your rejected from my hip bone and my knee

If I sailed away from continents and touched my lover's hair

Then you'd be very happy if I touched her there

I was very nervous how I felt in there

I was very cautious what'd you say

Hey there

Would you like to see me often?

Though you don't need to see me often

'Cause I'd like to see you often

Though I don't need to see you often

We do the dance up on the plains

Then I'll shake-shake your shoulders

You push me down into the grains

Who rubs our noses in the night?

We do

Pow! Pow!

Now! Now!

Pow! Pow!

Now! Now!

Pow! Pow!

Now! Now!

Pow! Pow!

Now! Now!
