Bond Of Blood

Par Bathory

Album : Twilight Of The Gods (Reissue)

Father who are in the sky

Hold thy hand above me

Mighty is the raging waves

On which I ride

Mother who awaits me ashore

Let your golden hair down

It will shine and guide me

Through the (raging) storm

Heading north after long a journey

We have sailed for so very long

Heavy seas endless sky above us

Heading north going home

Brother who fell in foreign land

Blessed thy soul a warriors

Living on through your sword

Now in my hand

Sister who for my return sings

Shed no more tears for my well

I can hear your voice clear now

In the wind

Heading north after long a journey

We have sailed for so very long

Heavy seas endless sky above us

Heading north going home

Heading north after long a journey

We have sailed for so very long

Heavy seas endless sky above us

Heading north going home

Heading north after long a journey

We have sailed for so very long

Heavy seas endless sky above us

Heading north going home

Heading north after long a journey

We have sailed for so very long

Heavy seas endless sky above us

Heading north going home
