You Can't Lose a Broken Heart

Par Billie Holiday

Album : The Blues Are Brewin'

Don't lose your head, then lose your guy

You can't lose a broken heart

If you ever break up then try to make up

It's tough to make a brand new start

Take a walk, think it over

While strolling 'neath the moon

Don't say things in December

You'll regret in June

Ware your remarks before you speak

Or you may be sorry soon

Don't be erratic, be diplomatic

To keep your heart's in tune

Cruel harsh words often spoken

Will upset your applectart

So don't lose your head then lose your guy

'Cause you can't lose a broken heart

Look how don't lose your head, then lose your gal

You can't lose a broken heart, baby

If you ever break up then try to make up

It's tough to make a brand new start

Take a walk and think it over

While strolling 'neath the moon

Don't say things in December

Baby, you'll regret in June

Ware your remarks before you speak

Or you may be sorry soon, baby

Don't be erratic, be diplomatic

To keep your heart's in tune, baby

Cruel harsh words often spoken

Will upset your applectart, baby

So don't lose your head then lose your girl

'Cause, you can't lose a broken heart

Losen

No you can't, can't lose a broken heart
