09 Long Division

Par Death Cab for Cutie

Album : Narrow Stairs

His head was a city of paper buildings
And the echoes that remained
Of old friends and lovers, their features bleeding
Together in his brain, oh-oh-oh

And once it started, it was harder to Tell them apart, oh-oh-oh

And he was always distracted by the very mention
Of an open door, oh-oh-oh

Because he had sworn

Not to be what he'd been before

To be a remain, remain, remain, remainder

To be a remain, remain, remain, remainder

The television was snowing softly

As she hunted for her keys

She said she never envisioned him the type of person

Capable of such deceit, oh-oh-oh

Oh-oh-oh

And then they carried on like long division

As it was clear with every page

Oh, that they were further away

From a solution that would play

Without a remain, remain, remain, remainder

Without a remain, remain, remain, remainder

Without a remain, remain, remain, remainder

Without a remain, remain, remain, remainder

And he had sworn

Not to be what he'd been before

To be the remain, remain, remain, remainder

To be the remain, remain, remain, remainder

To be the remain, remain, remain, remainder

To be the remain, remain, remain, remainder

To be the remain, remain, remain, remainder

To be the remain, remain, remain, remainder
