Weekend

Par Dirty Vegas

Album : Electric Love (Special Edition)

The weekend started

And no one tell you what to do

Don't be disheartened

'Cause I know that you'll come through

In your own time, in your way

We must be stupid

If we let this slip away

So let's get drunk

On our promiscuous ways, ways, ways

Ways, ways, ways, ways, ways

It's early morning

And all our friends have crashed and burned

TV tells me something

What do we never learn

In your own time, in your way

In your own time, with our own space

It's never going back, never going back

Never going back, never going back

It's never going back, never going back

Never going back, never going back

Place where I come from

Place where I come from

Place where I come from

Place where I come from

Place where I come from

'Cause we're never going back, never going back

I'm never going back, never going back

'Cause we're never going back, never going back

I'm never going back, never going back

Place where I come from

'Cause we're never going back, never going back

I'm never going back, never going back

'Cause we're never going back, never going back

I'm never going back, never going back

Place where I come from

Place where I come from

Place where I come from

Place where I come from

Place where I come from
