Where Dragons Rule (Live)

Par Dragonforce

Album : Twilight Dementia - Live

Full the moon and midnight sky

Through the dark they ride

Warriors of forever will sacrifice the right

One for all and all for one

The future time has come

Faces filled with torment

Your heart beats like a drum

Never you will look back again

You'll fight on 'til the end

Together we will live on

Forevermore

In this land we have defended from all things dark and cruel

Now we are defenseless in a land where dragons rule

In this land we have defended from all things dark and cruel

Now we are defenseless in a land where dragons rule

Where dragons rule... (low)

Flash of steel in the mid-day sun

The battle has begun

Blood spills all around us but still we carry on

No mercy we will show to them

The white flag shall be raised

We'll fight for our freedom

Ride towards this evil place

We all stand until the end allegiance to this game

In this land we've defended from all things dark and cruel

Now we're defenseless in a land where dragons rule

In this land we've defended from all things dark and cruel

Now we're defenseless in a land where dragons rule

Sun sets in the western sky

The battle's almost done

The victory will be glorious

Our enemies are gone

We all stand until the end allegiance to this game

In this land we've defended from all things dark and cruel

Now we're defenseless in a land where dragons rule

In this land we've defended from all things dark and cruel

Now we're defenseless in a land where dragons rule

In this land we've defended from all things dark and cruel

Now we're defenseless in a land where dragons rule

In this land we've defended from all things dark and cruel

Now we're defenseless in a land where dragons rule

In this land we've defended from all things dark and cruel

Now we're defenseless in a land where dragons rule

Dragons Rule!
