you look like you love me

Par Ella Langley (feat. Riley Green)

Album : Top 100 Songs United States

I was all but 22, I think at the time

I'd been out on the road, lonely at night

And it'd been a while, so it was on my mind

Well, I saw him walk in, with his cowboy hat

And I thought to myself, I could use some of that

His boots like glass on a sawdust floor, huh

Had moves like nothing I'd ever seen before

So I walked right up, and I pulled him to the side

I handed that man a beer and looked him in the eyes

And I said, "Baby, I think you're gonna wanna hear this"

Then I told him

"Excuse me

You look like you love me

You look like you want me to want you to come on home

And baby, I don't blame you

For looking me up and down across this room

I'm drunk and I'm ready to leave

And you look like you love me"

Well, I was down at a local beer joint with a few of the guys

When this cute little country girl caught my eye

And boy, let me tell you, she was the prettiest thing I'd ever seen in a pair of boots

Well, she walked right up to me, handed me a beer

Gave me a look like, "Let's get out of here"

And that's when I realized that she was every cowboy's dream come true

She told me this right here, she said

"Excuse me

You look like you love me

You look like you want me to want you to come on home

And baby, I don't blame you

For looking me up and down across this room

I'm drunk and I'm ready to leave

And you look like you love me"

Alright now

So if you ever see a man in a cowboy hat

And you think to yourself, I could use some of that

Don't waste your time

Just give him this here line

Goes a little like this

"Excuse me

You look like you love me

You look like you want me to want you to come on home

And baby, I don't blame you

For looking me up and down across this room

I'm drunk and I'm ready to leave

And you look like you love me

I'm drunk and I'm ready to leave

And you look like love me"
