The Ordinary Life

Par Four Letter Lie

Album : This Scarecrow Needs A Flame

Like Belle and Sebastian

We're dressed to impress

(It's all for you)

We've got it all

But can't find the meaning

(This is where love ends)

These words we're made

To hurt in this ordinary life

When you're starving for recognition

These wounds were made to heal

This has never been about

Breaking hearts just following our dreams

I replay these moments everyday

We're getting closer

I can taste it, can you feel it?

Can you feel it? Ohh

Can you feel it? Yeah

Can you feel it? Ohh

Can you feel it?

This is all everything that you could be

Leave the heart at home

Let's take this down a tone

This love secrecy is killing me

It's killing me, ohh

We've come this far to turn back now

From all the nights we've spent apart

These days have come and passed us by

Only the strong survive

There's gotta be more to life than this

In the blink of an eye

This could take us alive

It's okay to say no

Please just make up your mind

In the blink of an eye

This could take us alive

Leave us starving for home

Take me back where I'll never grow old

But rest assured I'm coming home

This is all everything that you could be

This love secrecy is killing me

This is all, this is all that we could be
