Par Great Expectations

Album : Great Expectations

You're sitting in your seat

And then you stand and clutch your breast

Our music drives you wild along with the rest

You watch me singing this song

You see what my mouth can do

And you wish you were the one I was doing it to

And you watch me playing guitar

And you feel what my fingers can do

And you wish you were the one I was doing it to

Well, listen!

You've got great expectations

You've got great expectations

You're dying to be seen

And you wave and call my name

But in the din it seems that I'm a million miles away

You watch me beating my drum

And you know what my hands can do

And you wish you were the one I was doing it to

Well, listen!

You've got great expectations

You've got great expectations

You've got great expectations

Then you feel these eyes from the stage

And you see me staring at you

And you hear between the lines

My voice is calling to you

Well, listen!

You've got great expectations

You've got great expectations

You've got great expectations (do you want to play the role?)

You've got great expectations (you'd even sell me your soul)

You've got great expectations

You've got great expectations

You've got great expectations (do you want to play the role?)

You've got great expectations (you'd even sell me your soul)

You've got great expectations (as long as you can play the role)

You've got great expectations
