Why Should We Try Anymore (Single Version)

Par Hank Williams

Album : 40 Greatest Hits

What's the use to deny we've been livin' a lie

That we should have admitted before

We were just victims of a half hearted love

So why should we try anymore?

The vows that we make are only to break

We drift like a wave from the shore

The kisses we steal we know are not real

So why should we try anymore?

The dreams that we knew can never come true

They're going to return no more

False love like ours fades with the flowers

So why should we try anymore?

Our story's so old again has been told

On the past let's close the door

And smile, don't regret but live and forget

There's no use to try anymore
