The Looking Glass (Paused)

Par Jace June

Album : The Looking Glass

Nine written letters

Are my buried treasure

Cause they're all I have of you now

So I rest my head

On a freezing bed

And I picture your lips

And your scarlett dress

But I'll build a home

And paint it in gold

We can dance alone

No why does this feel so real

And we'll fly, in my mind

Our love is a dream

We'll watch every memo

Darling we'll go

A thousand below

To a world we know

And we will love endlessly

Just hold me and slowly

We'll fall in our past

And love through the looking glass

I touch your eyelid

The tears fall in silence

And we both seem to know

But I just pray you never ask me

What if the glass breaks

And everything we ever had is slowly broken too

And if that's our last day, oh no no

Oh I'll just scream your name

Oh you are my everything

Darling we'll go

A thousand below

To a world we know

And we will love endlessly

Just hold me and slowly

We'll fall in our past

And love through the looking glass

Da da da da da

The looking glass
