Be The One

Par Jack Penate

Album : Life Is Music 2009

Be the one (repeat)

The stage was set for me to play

But I decided on the day that i did not believe the page

I walked away because of you

Just like Tiresias I knew

That me and you were fated too

We asked the church to save our souls

They said me were too early and to join the fold (?)

I lay and watch you sleep beneath the citrus sky

Pretending not to see you through my wanting eyes

I knew you could (be the one)

I knew you should (be the one)

I knew you could (be the one)

Be the one be the one

(Repeat)

My past was painted on a wall

But with a look you made a fool

I placed your flag into a ball

I'll follow you for any cause

I'll fight for you in any wars

And all to say that I am yours

We asked the church to save our souls

They said we were too early and to join the fold (?)

I lay and watch you sleep beneath the citrus sky

Pretending not to see you through my wanting eyes

I knew you should (be the one)

I knew you could (be the one)

I knew you would (be the one)

Be the one be the one

(Repeat)

Did we really? did we really fall in love?

(Be the one be the one)

Did we really? did we really fall in love?

(Be the one be the one)

I knew you should (be the one)

I knew you could (be the one)

I knew you would (be the one)

Be the one be the one

(Repeat)

Did we really? did we really fall in love?

(Be the one be the one)

Did we really? did we really fall in love?

(Be the one be the one)
