You Were Born (early version of "One of the Three" / outtake)

Par James

Album : Laid

You were warned, one of the three

I heard rumours of a man of peace

You were warned, one of the three

I had hoped you'd come around for me

Oh well, it's enough to make you silent on the other time

Oh well, it's enough to drink your water on the other side

Oh well, it's a love that you were offered only set you free

Set you free, and the time is now gone

Set you free, get you there

And you were warned, one of the three

You were sent for a man of peace

And you were warned, one of the three

Helped you out and up the masterpiece

And the brother said you're gonna get you there, get you there

Oh well, oh well, it's enough it's all, let it go

Oh well, oh well, I will let you go

One of the three, one of the three, one of the three

And you were warned, one of the three

Have you a warning on a set of keys

And you were warned, one of the three

I hoped everything would be a dream

Oh well, it's enough to call a god on the other side

Oh well, it's a dream of heart that stops on the other way

Oh well, oh well, oh well

You were warned, one of the three

It was said that none of every trees

You were warned, one of the three

Every said and none and every trees

And you were warned

One of the three, one of the three
