Rockin' Shopping Center

Par Jonathan Richman + The Modern Lovers

Album : Roadrunner

One, two

A-one, two, bass man

Let's go

Well, I landed at a shopping center in an unknown state

Unknown kind of architecture, atmospheric trait

Unknown brand and labels, unknown market chains

The strangest collection of buildings here

Upon the fruited plain

And let's rock

Let's go

Alright, hey

You see, you got the different labels and the different brands

Each little region across the land

Different colors in the different states

Different labels and let's tell 'em about

All the different states for all the different traits

And as of this date, I hate no state

Let's rock

Let's go

Alright

Well, I walked through the mall and I walked up and down

I done got tired so I done sat down

I watched the people for a while, you always learn a little

De-doily-doidy-doik-doik-doik-doik-diddle

Let's rock

Let's go (go, go, aye bass)

Yeah

Alright

Well, the giant sign says "Momo Plaza"

These centers, I don't know, it has a

Weirdo insignia they put on all the bags

They wrote it on the walls, even paint a flag

If I were a shopping center, I'd sure be embarrassed

I know I'd never get a date with some cute little building, like from Paris

Let's rock

Let's go

Alright

Alright
