Am I Too Late

Par Kenny Rogers; Kim Keyes

Album : Life Is Like A Song (Deluxe Edition)

I don't understand your hesitation

You always were so quick to say what needed to be said

But you're standing there saying nothing

Please say something

Just don't tell me I'm too late

It took a while for me

To understand my feelings for you

I hope it's not too late to say

I love you, oh girl

'Cause I do

Before you turn away

And the chance to say I love you is gone

You've got to know I finally found the feeling

And though I never told you I'd live my life to hold you

Am I too late to show myself?

Is it too late to let you know?

Can you feel me? I'm touching you

And it scares me to think you might say no (you might say no)

'Cause it's too late to let you go

But you're standing there saying nothing

Please say something

Just don't tell me that

I'm too late to show myself

Is it too late to let you know

Do you feel me? I'm touching you

And it scares me to think you might say no

'Cause it's too late to let you go
