hourglass memory (Paused)

Par key vs. locket

Album : i felt like a sketch

We won't be sisters

Try to erase me

You dared to have my hand through your clothes again

Don't you know we need some space

Just maybe it was a phase in the end

I can't hold onto one weekend

I won't hold onto impossibles too

If the memory ends I might break

No one at all should know

Don't be so afraid

In the limit, there's more you could take

I won't say if there's no curatives left

So go and find some on your own

Lately, I've been having this dream

With some kind of earthquake shaking ev?rything

I had seen this figure hold onto my hand

Even though I knew th?re was no one left

And now the dream has gotten old

I wake up shaking, not from fear but something else

Something I don't know

(I wasn't afraid of you at all)

(I wanna stray away)

(I wasn't afraid of you at all)

If we had to try

Wouldn't it feel wronger to start over

Doing whatever all over again?

But I shouldn't know

In the end of the world let's watch all the meteors fall

Why wait until we're gone?

And I wanna see everything I'm missing

We all wanna be something that we're not

You'll feel accomplished for someone that looks like me

Don't try so hard to get rid of everything
