Walter's Walk

Par Led Zeppelin

Album : Coda standard edition?2015 remastered?

Oh, know I feel so strange looking out the door

Ah, trying hard to change but can't let go

Oh, crying tears of pain, hurting more and more

Oh, every day's the same as you walk the floor

I'm walking the floor over you

I'm walking the floor

Every heart that breaks is a heart that's cold

Oh, to the hand that takes your dreamless soul

Oh, is it long to wait, is there much to pay?

Oh, sometimes it's hard waiting for the day

You know it's hard, I said it's hard

You know it's true

I said it's hard, you know it's hard

Still know it's true

Every tear that falls is a smile that's lost

When you hear the call, can you count the cost?

As you stand alone, do you wonder how?

Can you step aside, does it matter now?

Every love that's changed, spend it fully

In the eyes of the night, was it hard to see?

If it never fails in spite of it all

So you hide the tears, enter Walter's walk

You know it is true now

You know it is true now

I am walking the floor over you

I am walking the floor

Every tear that falls is a smile that's lost

When you hear the call, can you count the cost?

As you stand alone, do you wonder how?

Can you step aside, does it matter now?

Does it matter now?

Does it, now does it matter?

Does it matter?

Ooh yeah

Ooh yeah

Ooh, little baby, don't you know

Every tear that falls, does it matter now?

Does it matter now?

Oh yeah

Oh yes

Oh yes
