Here is my hand, you touch it and go

Here are my lips, you say you need more

Here is my body, caress it and kiss it

All you can say is something is missing

Your eyes are so gentle, your style is so cool

But deep in your soul you're heartless and cruel

I'm here when you want me, I go when you tell me

What else can I do so I can be with you?

My defences are down, right down to the ground

But you still express your dissatisfaction

My body is waiting, to use at your leisure

All you can say is my pain is your pleasure
