Come Tomorrow

Par Manfred Mann

Album : Singles Plus

If the song of the songbird

Could replace my wrong word

Then, my dear, that's the song I would borrow

And tonight you would hear

The saddest song of the year

And you'd be mine once again come tomorrow

If the song of the swallow

Could reveal my sorrow

Then, my dear, he would sing just for you

And tonight you would hear

The saddest song of the year

And you'd be mine once again come tomorrow

Just tonight, while in flight

On your windowsill daylight

To tell you all of my tears

And tonight you would hear

The saddest song of the year

And you'd be mine once again come tomorrow

If the song of the swallow

Could reveal my sorrow

Then, my dear, he would sing

He would sing just for you

And tonight

Tonight you would hear

The saddest song of the year

And you'd be mine once again come tomorrow

And tonight

Tonight you would hear

The saddest song of the year

And you'd be mine

You'd be mine once again come tomorrow

Sing, sing, sing, sing, sing, Mr Songbird

Come on and sing just one, little swallow

And make her mine once again come tomorrow
