The Song of Mara

Par Mysteria Mortis

Album : The Song of Mara

Northern roads wrapped in snow

Under the spell of magic and dreams

Cold stars showed me the way

For a long time Death predicted these trails

Death walks behind you on your heels

My heart is taken by a temple of ice

With Mara's song, go with the blizzard

The sun of last spring won't rise

Death walks behind you on your heels

My heart is taken by a temple of ice

With Mara's song, go with the blizzard

The sun of last spring won't rise

My heart is gripped by cruel sadness

By Mara-Winter, my soul is drugged

Following magical traces

But the way to the sun in heaven, I can't find!

Death walks behind you on your heels

My heart is taken by a temple of ice

With Mara's song, go with the blizzard

The sun of last spring won't rise

Death walks behind you on your heels

My heart is taken by a temple of ice

With Mara's song, go with the blizzard

The sun of last spring won't rise

Mara called the snow storm

Frost in my soul rises up again

Evil cold and rebellious winds

Something whispers to me

Whispering to me

Death walks behind you on your heels

My heart is taken by a temple of ice

With Mara's song, go with the blizzard

The sun of last spring won't rise

The way is accompanied by the cries of crows

The winds are chilly, the song howls!

With Mara's song, with someone's ache

Spring was dying under the snow
