Tyrants Serenade

Par Paradise Lost

Album : Tyrants Serenade

Another winter again

Forlorn as memories torment

Hollow they seem, another daydream

But then, a silent lament

So alone

Feel so cold alone

Never let it show, never let it known

Feeling so alone

Revealed the God of malevolence

Through years, our destinies separate

The slow pain as the liar celebrates

No more does sickness relent

As growing weakness prevents

Laughter, glances of second chances, but then

A darkness descends

Revealed the God of malevolence

Through years, our destinies separate

The slow pain as the liar celebrates...

The tyrants serenade

Weary nights I wish and wonder I'm dreaming, not tonight

Never dream at night

On dreary nights, I drift and wander, I'm screaming out to die

Revealed the God of malevolence

Through years, our destinies separate

The slow pain as the liar celebrates
