Ancient History (Acoustic)

Par Set It Off

Album : Duality: Stories Unplugged (Acoustic)

No, there's no denying chemistry this strong

Yes, pretend it's right but we both know it's wrong

Thinking about the storm advancing

Thinking about the lightning dancing in your eyes

But I, can't shake these memories that rein inside

Tension builds, I think we're under-thinking part-time thrills

I know, I know how to drive you wild

You know, you know how to make me smile

But I need you to be my ancient history

Damn, pick up the phone, uh oh, I'm drunk again

And you, know my intentions cause it's two AM

It's fun and games until we both get hurt

We play with fire cause we like the way it burns

No use in patching up a sinking ship

This is the last time we do this, baby

This is the last time you taste my lips

I know, I know how to drive you wild

You know, you know how to make me smile

But I need you to be my ancient history

I know, I know who you really are

You know, you know how to break my heart

But I need you to be my ancient history

It's the way you

Let me throw you cross the bed

Got you running through my head

When I know I should be sleeping

But I can't escape

You're addicted to the lust

The imaginary we trust

But you're begging for me, screaming for it

Here we go, now it's time to cut the cord

And abandon love support

I know, I know how to drive you wild

You know, you know how to make me smile

But I need you to be my ancient history

I know, I know who you really are

You know, you know how to break my heart

But I need you to be my ancient history
