SHE'S MINE

Par Shadows Awake

Album : SHE'S MINE

Through fire and ruin, I still stand

Her name engraved into my hands

The world can break, the heavens divide

But nothing will tear her from my side

I hear the whispers, the voices of doubt

But they don't know what love's about

She is the anchor the blood in my veins

A vow unbroken through the pain

Every scar we carried home

Every night we felt alone

I'll fight the dark, I'll take the fall

Her love's the reason I risk it all

They can curse me, they can curse my name

But I'll scream it louder just the same

She's the flame I'll never deny

And I won't let her slip from my life

She's mine, my heart, my soul

The only reason I've been made whole

Through the storm, through the endless night

I'll hold her close, I'll never lose this fight

She's mine, and I'll bleed to prove

There's nothing stronger than this truth

No force on earth, no hand of time

Can take away what's hers and mine

Her eyes cut through the blackest days

Her voice still haunts me in the haze

And if the world should tear apart

She live forever in my heart

In my heart

I'll walk through fire, I'll bear the chains

I'll bear the weight, I'll take the pain

Every battle, every sin

I'll fight again and again

I'll tear down the heavens

I'll crawl through the ash

Break every wall and I'll never look back

Her love is my war, my holy hymn

I'll die to protect what's always been

They can't erase what I know is true

Every road I take leads back to you

In the silence, your name I cry

An anthem echoing through the sky

She mine my heart my soul

The only reason I've been made whole

Through the storm through the endless night

I'll hold her close I'll never lose this fight

She's mine and I'll bleed to prove

No force on earth, no hand of time

Can take away what's hers and mine

Through ruin

I still stand

Her name engraved into my hands

She's mine

Forever mine
