Running Away

Par Skowyt

Album : Inspired By The Witcher

All his life he was helping them

And what he received was spit in the face

He's always wanted to blame, and

People shouted "A freak is here"

Choose your path and walk away

Choose yourself, be yourself

Told you, there's no turning back,

Running away, you're running away.

Better sleep with one eye open

You never know who's on your trail

All his life he was helping them

And what he received was spit in the face

He's always wanted to blame, and

People shouted "A freak is here"

Running away, always running away

Running away, always running away

Choose your path and walk away

Choose yourself, be yourself

Told you there's no turning back

Running away, you're running away.

Better sleep with one eye open

You never know who's on your trail

All his life he was helping them

And what he received was spit in the face

He's always wanted to blame, and

People shouted "A freak is here"

Running away, always running away

Running away, always running away

You know, you just can't turn your back, sometimes

You have to rise your hand, sometimes

Release your anger, forget your pain

You can't be neutral in a moving trail

Can't be neutral in a moving trail

Can't be neutral in a moving trail

All his life he was helping them

And what he received was spit in the face

He's always wanted to blame, and

People shouted "A freak is here"

Running away, always running away

Running away, always running away

Can't be neutral in a moving trail

Can't be neutral in a moving trail

Can't be neutral in a moving trail, aah!
