It's just one thing baby I'm asking you to do

It's just one little thing baby I'm asking you to do

Please give me back your key to your door

I called the little girl about a quarter after nine

I called the little girl one morning about a quarter after nine

The landlady say "I'm sorry, she's not in at the present time"

(solo)

I called my baby back about fifteen after four

I called my baby back fifteen after four

I said darling, would you please give me back the key to your door?
