This Time Baby's Gone for Good

Par Southside Johnny

Album : Hearts of Stone (Remastered)

You're restless baby - the good is gone from your eyes

I've seen that look before but it's different this time

I wonder how long you've been living in this lie

I can't hold on girl

And I can't give up, no, no

I just can't turn and walk away

The night won't make it right, baby, not this time

I know there's nothing left that's gonna change your mind

We played the hard way as long as we could

But this time baby's gone for good

You're running scared, girl

You've lost what you once believed

Do you lie awake at night do you think about me?

Have you found somebody who can give you what you need?

But I can't stay here

It hurts so badly

But I can't just turn and walk away

The night won't make it right, baby, not this time

I know there's nothing left that's gonna change your mind

We played the hard way as long as we could

But this time baby's gone for good

Baby worries, baby bleeds

Baby must have what she sees

Was it so hard, couldn't you see me?

The night won't make it right baby not this time

I know there's nothing left that's gonna change your mind

We played the hard way but it took a little bit too long

But this time baby knows she's wrong

This time baby knows she's wrong

So wrong
