Days Are Numbers (The Traveller)

Par The Alan Parsons Project

Album : The Essential (CD2)

The traveller is always leaving town
He never has the time to turn around
And if the road he's taken isn't leading anywhere
He seems to be completely unaware

The traveller is always leaving home
The only kind of life he's ever known
When every moment seems to be a race against the time
There's always one more mountain left to climb

Days are numbers (days)

Watch the stars (are numbers)

We can only see so far

Someday

You'll know where you are (know where you, know where you are)

Remember, days are numbers (days)

Count the stars (are numbers)

We can only go so far

One day

You'll know where you are (know where you, know where you are)

The traveller awaits the morning tide

He doesn't know what's on the other side

But something deep inside of him keeps telling him to go

He hasn't found a reason to say no

The traveller is only passing through

He cannot understand your point of view

Abandoning reality, unsure of what he'll find

The traveller in me is close behind

Days are numbers (days)

Watch the stars (are numbers)

We can only see so far

Someday

You'll know where you are (know where you, know where you are)

Remember, days are numbers (days)

Count the stars (are numbers)

We can only go so far

One day

You'll know where you are (know where you, know where you are)

Remember, days are numbers (days)

Watch the stars (are numbers)

We can only see so far

Someday

You'll know where you are (know where you, know where you are)
