Loveblind [1994 Digital Remaster]

Par The Church

Album : The Best Of The Radio Songs

Have I told you 'bout the case

If the man who had no face? I'm sure I have

His wife suspected something

That's why she brought me in

We arranged to meet one night

At a bar called Aphrodite's on second street

But when I looked into her eyes

I very quickly realized, the danger

The price was right, a deal was struck

I don't think that she gave it a thought

It was plain to see

That the lady was loveblind

It was clear to see

It was clear that she was loveblind

Out into the foggy night

Into the city's blurry light, I drove alone

I wondered then what kind of place

Would make a man lose face

I pieced together clue by clue

Just what a faceless man would do, it wasn't hard

Who would he love, where would he go

Places faceless men would know, on second street

I was close, I was near

But that woman just wouldn't hear

It was plain to see

That the lady was loveblind, loveblind

It was clear to see

It was clear that she was loveblind, loveblind

Loveblind

Next morning came as mornings do

I had a shave it was close too, a close shave

In the mirror, in my space

There was a man without a face

I rang my client and I banged on her door

I told her it was me that we was looking for

It was plain to see

That the lady was loveblind, loveblind

It was clear to see

It was clear that she was loveblind, loveblind

Loveblind

Loveblind
