Citizens of the world, rejoice!

As of today, a new chapter of mankind's history has begun.

We have solved nature's last mystery

It's ultimate secret and have finally found the key to eternal life.

Not only are you now all equal

You are also a priveleged new generation

Chosen to live forever!

Welcome to immortality!

Behold our world

At last we're all equal

Life and death have now lost their meaning

Time's alive inside of our bodies

'Coz nature's secrets are unveiled so we cry out

Now we've found just what we're all about

So disillusioned for the price we pay is high

Don't look down or you might fall

So be deaf to nature's call

Don't think twice and let your mind fly by
