You Can Make Him Like You

Par The Hold Steady

Album : Live in London 3-7-20

You don't have to deal with the dealers

Let your boyfriend deal with the dealers

It only gets inconvenient

When you want to get high alone

You don't have to know how to get home

Let your boyfriend tell the driver the best way to go

It only gets kind of weird

When you wanna go home alone

You don't have to know the inspiring people

Let your boyfriend know the inspiring people

You can hang in the kitchen

Talk about the stars and the upcoming sequel

If you get tired of your boyfriend's things

There's always other boys, there's always other boyfriends

If you get tired of your boyfriend's scene

There's always other scenes, there's always other boyfriends

You don't have to deal with the dealers

Let your boyfriend deal with the dealers

It only gets inconvenient

When you want to get high alone

You don't have to go to the right kind of schools

Let your boyfriend come from the right kind of schools

You can wear his old sweatshirt

You can cover yourself like a bruise

If you get tired of your boyfriend's things

There's always other boys, there's always other boyfriends

If you get tired of your football friends

There's always other boys, there's always other boyfriends

If you get tired of the the car he drives

There's always other boys, you can make him like you

If you get tired of the music he likes

There's always other boys, you can make him like you

They say you don't have a problem until you start to do it alone

They say you don't have a problem until you start bringing it home

They say you don't have a problem until you start sleeping alone

There's always other boys, there's always other boyfriends

There's always other boys, you can make him like you

There's always other boys, there's always other boyfriends

There's always other boys, you can make him like you

There's always other boys, there's always other boyfriends

There's always other boys, you can make him like you

There's always other boys, there's always other boyfriends

There's always other boys, you can make him like you
