Caged Bird

Par The Shroud

Album : Long Ago and Far Away

Sunrise blooms orchid bright

Bought with fancies in the night

Life more precious than honor holds

Sold with legends, promises and fantasy

Change of seasons chain the heart

Woven spellweb light and dark

Shifting shadows across the sand

Falling scales of serpent laughter count the days

Jade and silver overhead

Orchids crushed upon your bed

Your thoughts may wander freely

And the caged bird sings so sweetly...

Cunning instincts worked by day

Cross the oath taken in rage

Talents twisted and mystic found

Dance in circles clouding vision with their wings

Hearbeat holds beads of time

Wide eyed waiting in the mind

Vision holding the future key

Crowning glory trickery and all for love

Jade and silver overhead

Orchids crushed upon your bed

Your thoughts may wander freely

And the caged bird sings so sweetly...
