Lover, lover, let's pretend we're born as innocents

Cast into the world with apple eyes

To wish, wish dangerous, my dear delirious

To try and leave the rest of us behind

Shot full of diamonds

And a million years

The disappointed disappear

Like they were never here

Kiss, kiss all of this

The hiss that we had missed

And understand what can't be understood

Sear those thoughts of me, alone and unhappy

I never liked me anyway

If by chance, or circumstance, we should fail

Don't be so sad

Shot full of diamonds

And a million years

The disappointed disappear

Like they were never here

In a dream, we are connected

Siamese twins at the wrist

And then I knew we'd been forsaken

Expelled from paradise

I can't believe them when they say that it's alright

Words can't define what I feel inside, who needs them?

Caught with this virus of my mind

I give in to my disease, of my needs

To my disease, of my needs

She really loves to break

Her dad says it's okay

She really loves to break, and give it all away

Her ma says she's afraid

What more can she fake?

She really needs to break, and give herself away

She gave it all away

She gave it all away

We really love the U.S.A
