Far Gone Now

Par Vaya Con Dios

Album : Vaya Con Dios - Their Ultimate Top 40 Collection

Don't go looking for him lady,

Don't go looking for him now.

He'll be sailing 'cross the ocean,

By the time you turn around

All he carries is his pride, he has nothing to his name.

What he's leaving you behind,

Is the burden of the blame.

Don't go looking for him lady,

He's far gone now

Don't go looking for him lady,

Don't go looking for him now.

He's somewhere across the border,

In some lonely little town

A tattoo on his arm, is all that will remain

Of a lady, with no heart, playing stupid little games

Don't go looking for him lady,

He's far gone now

[Bridge]

And now you're gazing at the moon.

Humming melancholic lines

Burning candles in your room,

As if to see the light

[Instrumental]

Don't go looking for him lady,

Don't go looking for him now

He'll be over the horizon,

By the time you come around.

You can stare up at the sky

Building castles in the air

He won't be coming back this time,

There'll be no answer to your prayers.

Don't go looking for him lady,

He's far gone now

And now you're gazing at the moon.

Humming melancholic lines

Burning candles in your room,

As if to see the light

Don't go looking for him lady,

Don't go looking for him now

There's no need to be sorry for yourself

It don't matter anyhow

Don't go looking for him lady yeah

He's far gone now

Don't looking for him lady yeah

He's far gone now
