If you love someone, you gotta set them free

If you love someone, you gotta set them free

If you love someone, you gotta set them free

Gotta give them space so they can breathe

Fire in your face, let 'em off the leash

So they can make you chase 'em into the street

Let 'em out the cage, let 'em sink those teeth

Right into your throat like a piece of meat

Let 'em dig those claws so that you can't see

What an awful monster you've come to be

I was a monster and you were a liar

I was a rabbit and you were a tiger

I tried to be honest and you got inspired

Like hm, another dozen ways to defile

I tried so much harder than I'm used to trying

Handled you with care, bubble wrapped you and lined you

Made sure not to drop you, never left you by the stairs

Not knowing I was insuring my own despair

If you love someone, you gotta set them free

Gotta give them space so they can breathe

Fire in your face, let 'em off the leash

So they can make you chase 'em into the street

Let 'em out the cage, let 'em sink those teeth

Right into your throat like a piece of meat

Let 'em dig those claws so that you can't see

What an awful monster you've come to be

You punch my face
And tell me how selfish
I am for not losing a tooth
I wanna know how I got to this place
And what I did to deserve you
You've shave my head
While I'm sleeping
And called me evil for wearing a hat
I wanted so badly just for you to be happy with that

If you love someone, you gotta set them free

Gotta give them space so they can breathe

Fire in your face, let 'em off the leash

So they can make you chase 'em into the street

Let 'em out the cage, let 'em sink those teeth

Right into your throat like a piece of meat

Let 'em dig those claws so that you can't see

What an awful monster you've come to be

If you love someone, you gotta set them free

Gotta give them space so they can breathe

Fire in your face, let 'em off the leash

So they can make you chase 'em into the street

Let 'em out the cage, let 'em sink those teeth

Right into your throat like a piece of meat

Let 'em dig those claws so that you can't see

What an awful monster you've come to be
